

Prophetic Word by Dennis Cramer

(as read by John Kilpatrick 04/08/2012)

I declare by the Spirit of God that a seven-year season, a “now” season of “Jubilee” is upon the church. It is a time to rejoice because God is indeed making your enemies His footstool! (Psalm 110:1) Literally, right now, as you hear this prophetic declaration, God is at work in your life vindicating you. He is busy “behind the scenes” working on your behalf. A new seven-year period of great spiritual release is upon you! The years of persecution and suffering “for His name’s sake” are about to pay off big time.

The year that we have just ended has marked the end of a brutal season for many of you. At first, we did not discern the magnitude of what we have come through. But now there is a supernatural season that we are experiencing and I believe it’s truly an awesome church-wide go to the next level unprecedented supernatural shift! One supernatural season has ended and a distinctly new and better supernatural season in God has begun.

Unnoticed by most, the Holy Spirit began to move around mid-January, setting off a chain reaction of spiritual events for all who have “endured hardship as a soldier of Jesus Christ.” If you’ve been enduring hardship, if you’ve been wounded, especially by “friendly fire,” this new season is just for you! God says He’s going to heal you.

In a word, this new season is all about vindication. It’s not about you exacting vengeance; it’s not about you “getting even.” Not at all. Instead, it’s about vindication from God for the past seven years as you have endured suffering as His faithful soldier. God said, “You’re about to be rewarded.”

The truth is about to come out. You are about to be freed from alleged charges against you. You are about to be absolved and acquitted. The Lord is about to announce over you, “Not guilty!” Victims are about to rejoice and accusers are about to be silenced! The Lord said, “You’re not being paroled; you’re being acquitted!”

I believe that countless believers just like you have lived through a seven-year period of great personal hardship — especially in the area of damaged or even severed personal and ministry relationships. The Lord said, “All this is going to change rapidly.” If you’ve been victimized by sinners or saints, get ready. Your day is right at hand! Specifically, you have been waiting for vindication from past injustices, betrayals, and abandonments and the subsequent disillusionment it has created.

Frankly, the root problem has been about witchcraft in the Church. A spirit of witchcraft that has decimated and dissected you is finally being exposed. You paid a great price for your integrity, your character, and your honesty. It cost you a great deal to be a true follower of Jesus Christ. You may have even appeared to many to be the “bad guy” when, in fact, you were actually the victim of a spiritual crime. Again, all that is going to change. The Lord would say to you today, “Your days of mourning are over and your Jubilee has now just begun.

I declare prophetically that a season of great vindication and long overdue justice for you, especially if you are one of His leaders, is upon you right now. God has already begun the necessary process of vindicating you. “You have suffered betrayal, false accusation, broken promises, and abandonment long enough,” God said.

As a result, you’ve been disillusioned about your call on your life far too long. The Lord said, “Be encouraged! He is delivering you from the results of past problems, the results of past situations and circumstances that has either delayed or in some extreme cases actually robbed you of your destiny.

God said, “I say to you, all will be as it was supposed to be. There will be no part of your destiny delayed any longer and no part of your destiny will be denied. Is there anything too hard for Me?”

Indeed, this “vindication” is a key word, it’s a “now” word from the Lord. I hear it in my spirit loud and clear for you. To all His wonderful and wounded warriors, to all that have been suffering abuse at the hands of others, the Lord would comfort you with these words in this season.

He said, “I am now vindicating you. You are being exonerated; you are about to experience true justice.”

You are now about to experience the promotion in God that you have waited patiently for. The seven years of explosive increase of power, gifting, and authority is yours now for the taking. You are going to the next level for sure. The promises of God in your life are about to be wonderfully and powerfully fulfilled very quickly.

Now here’s the hard part of this prophetic promise, the part you will really need “ears to hear.” Often a prophecy’s impact is only as good as a response. Whether or not this prophecy for the Church impacts you personally will depend entirely on your proper response.

A prophecy’s impact is only as good as your response to it. No doubt you will be asked by God to participate in this healing and restoration process of formerly broken relationships — especially with Christians. Please do so graciously and humbly just as Christ would. Say yes to any and all who are looking to be reconciled with you.

I predict that people, saved and unsaved from your past, will soon be calling you and visiting you. They will come with olive branches in their hands looking to establish peace with you. I urge you to accept their offering and participate enthusiastically in the peace process.

God’s part during this new seven year season will be to vindicate you in incredible ways. Like Joseph you are coming out of your dungeon and you are about to experience great favor upon your life; a true season of amazing promotion is awaiting you.

So, welcome to your new seven-year season of Jubilee!
