

Prophetic Word for Soaking & Stretching Prophetic Fellowship

Elaine Strahm, 09/09/2011

This is for My beloved to hear, says your God.

My children, I love you and I gather you together for My purposes. I gather you together for fellowship; and I gather you together to petition Me. There are yet many needs to bring before My throne room.

I keep listening to YOU, My people. Never think I am not listening; never think I do not care about what you are going through. I see the daily struggles. I see the trashy things that repeatedly try to come for you to absorb. I say put up the barrier so the trash doesn't enter your mind. Now is the time to absorb what the Lord your God sets before you. I put a plate of good things in front of you in My Word.

Times are changing and shifting now. Soon a new season will be upon you and it will no longer be as it has been.

NOW is the time to hold onto what My Word says. Pay attention to the now word of God.

You are My partners. I do not keep you as slaves, but I hold you close to Myself and I caress you. I want you near Me.

Children of the Most High, I deliver to you the good news. I am supplying to you your daily needs.

Take one step at a time and see what great things I have for you. I have drawn each of you to Myself as individuals and I train you to watch Me and I train you to imitate Me.

You are My darling ones. Therefore rejoice evermore. Rejoice in the fact that soon I will return to the earth. The day is coming when I will gather you in. Be listening, watching and waiting for the sounding of the trumpet.

Victory is yours, My beloved ones.
